REA BORROWERS RESPONSIBLE

FOR THE AUDIT OF THEIR ACCOUNTS

It is the policy of the Rural Electrification Administration to encourage its borrowers to become self-reliant, looking ahead to the time when they will own their systems outright. Although it is a function of the REA to assure repayment of its loans, it is the policy of the agency to have borrowers assume more responsibility for the condition of their affairs as rapidly as they achieve sufficient operating stability. In connection with this over-all policy REA requests those borrowers which have reached certain standards to accept responsibility for the audit of their accounts. The employment of an independent accountant rests with them.

The Administration does not give blanket approval to any accountant or firm of accountants. Our borrowers have been advised to submit to REA, for approval, the names of the certified public accountants whom they have selected, prior to the start of the audit, but after an agreement has been reached as to the scope of the audit and the fee to be paid.

There is attached a list by states of REA borrowers which have been selected to assume responsibility for the audit of their accounts.
